NAVAL COURT DECIDED.

Believed That They Have a Report About Ready.

EXTERNAL FORCE RUINED MAINE.

Captain Sampson Intimated That the Testimony Was Gratifyingly Complete Not Believed In Havana That Spanish Officials of Rank Will Be Implicated.

KEY WEST, March 17.—Among naval officers and others it is generally believed that the naval court of inquiry has come to the definite conclusion that the explosion that destroyed the Maine was external and that the court is now only busied over the minor technical details. One of the officers of the Maine said to the correspondent:

"I believe the Maine was blown up from the outside, but judging from the questions asked by members of the court when previously here, I am utterly unable to ascertain whether they have even countenanced such a solution of the disaster."

Amid cheers from their fellow survivors and friends some of the officers of the Maine left on the Plant line steamer Olivette, via Tampa, for their homes.

HAVANA, via Key West, March 17.—With the court of inquiry gone to Key West, after a second visit to the scene of the wreck of the Maine, the tension grows serious. The court, a body like a grand jury, in its functions, is nearly ready to report. Unless there are new discoveries here, which is unlikely, there is nothing to be done but for the members to seclude themselves in the Iowa and formulate the convictions already firmly held. There is no reason to change the belief that the court will find that the disaster was caused by an explosion outside the Maine, but its members have been as secret as the grave.

The chief officers have been absolutely discreet, while the talk of the divers has been contradictory. From numerous bits of evidence, that have come out during the three weeks' examination, it seems as sure as anything in this latitude can be that the plans before the court show that the ship was broken in two and the forward part rent asunder by an explosion from the outside.

Captain Sampson intimated to the correspondent before leaving here that the testimony was "gratifyingly complete."

This might mean that an accidental cause had been discovered, but indications are all the other way. No one believes that any Spanish officials or officers of rank will be implicated whatever may be the findings of the court."

GREAT FLEET OF WAR.

Additions to Be Made to the White Squadron—A Yacht Purchased.

WASHINGTON, March 17.—It is said that the object of the navy department in purchasing such crafts as the late Mr. Ogden Goelet's yacht Mayflower is to provide as quickly as possible a number of picketboats of good speed and enough ability to act as scouts and also to aid our ironclads and more expensive vessels in operations against torpedoboats. A large number of private yachts have been offered to the department and other acquisitions of the same type as the Mayflower may be expected.

The fleet at Key West will be augmented within the next day or two by the arrival of the gunboat Annapolis, the torpedoboot Foote and the naval tugs Leyden and Samoset, while the gunboat Helena is now on her way from the European station under orders to report at Key West. The Helena reported her arrival at Funchal, on her way to join the fleet. These and the other vessels previously ordered to that point constitute the largest assemblage of war vessels made since the demonstration following the Virginius affair, and considering the effectiveness and armament it is the strongest assemblage of ships, for other than review purposes, since the war.

BROWNSON ARRIVES IN LONDON.

Spain Bid to the Last For Our New Ships—Can't Borrow Money.

LONDON, March 17.—Commander W. H. Brownson, the special commissioner of the United States navy department for the inspection and selection for purchase, if conditions should require, of warships of foreign powers now on the market, has arrived here.

The final contract providing for the sale of the warships Amazonas and Almirante Abrouall to the United States has been signed. The price is something over £500,000 ($2,500,000), for both ships.

It is added that Brazil will not sell any more warships for the present, except two defense ships, the Marshal Deodoro and Marshal Floriano, which are being built in France. The Amazon cannot be completed for six weeks.

It is learned that there had been special bidding between the United States and Spain for the Amazonas and Abrouall, up to the last, and the outcome was actually in doubt until the contracts were signed.

The action of Brazil in this matter is said to have been influenced by a desire to repay the good offices of the United States government during the Mello revolution. Moreover, it is said, Brazil strongly sympathizes with the Cubans.

A private telegram has been received here from New York asking whether it is true that Spain is trying to raise a loan of $50,000,000 in London. It is reported that the Rothschilds replied denying the report and adding that Spain could not raise any money in London.

Spain Buying Slow Steamers.

BERLIN, March 17.—Senor Sandoval, the Spanish agent, is negotiating for the purchase of a number of old and slow steamers of the North German Lloyd Steamship company.

M'KINLEY MISREPRESENTED

Grosvenor Denies McKinley Is Urging an Early Adjournment of Congress.

WASHINGTON, March 17.—Mr. Cochran (Dem., Mo.), in commenting in the house on the existing Cuban situation, referred to the current rumor that the president desired an immediate adjournment in order that he might be able to settle the Spanish affair without interference from congress.

Mr. Grosvenor (Rep., O.) replied to this statement immediately. It should be remembered, he said, in weighing such reports, that congress was an independent power, the existence of which could not be ended under the constitution. He did not pretend to know more than the humblest citizen, yet, he said, he took the responsibility of stating that the suggestion that the president had fixed a date for the adjournment of congress, or desired to fix a date, or had expressed a hope that congress would adjourn by a certain time was absolutely without foundation and ridiculous into the bargain. Congress could not adjourn except by a majority vote of its members, and he had no doubt that every member responsible to his conscience and his country would do his duty as he saw it in the matter of adjournment, as in everything else.

Mr. Norton (Dem., O.), who followed Mr. Grosvenor, expressed his amazement that the Republican side of the house had been so long silent in the face of the outrages and indignities heaped upon this government and upon the flag by Spain.

AN ATTACK ON LEE.

A Spanish Paper Argues That He Should Be Removed—Another Publication Declares the Spanish People Will Force War, if Crowded Too Far.

MADRID, March 17.—The Imparcial devotes its leading article to the United States consul general in Cuba, General Fitzhugh Lee. It remarks that he is "a factor in the Cuban problem to which sufficient attention has not been paid," adding:

"In no capital of Europe would a full-blown ambassador be allowed to do what this consular agent indulges in with impunity in Cuba. Does any difficulty arise between his country and Spain, he increases it; does friction arise between the two countries, he does his best to add to it; his reports are always hostile to our country and very often full of falsehood. The insurgents look upon him as a protector, the Spaniards as an enemy. A paper of his own country has hinted, many European papers have stated, that he belongs to the syndicate who wish to buy up Cuba and every indication points to the truth of this statement.

"It is, therefore, not surprising that English, French and German papers have frequently asked:

"Why does not Spain request the United States to replace an official who, far from being a bond of union between the two countries, is an open element of discord and strife?

"That is the question we, too, ask. Is our government so timid and frightened that it dare not present a petition to a government with which it assures it is on friendly terms?"

El Correo of March 2 quotes the following from the Correspondencia Militar:

"Raising its voice, the Yankee government already speaks of ultimata and declarations of war. They judge the spirit of the Spanish people by the baseness of her rulers, and insult the one or the other with the insolence of a bully in front of a weakling incapable of self-defense. This is a great mistake of the North American republic commits."

"If our government commits the indignity of even considering the payment of the indemnity with which we are threatened; if an ultimatum is sent us and is made public, then will come the explosion, and there will then be no way of avoiding war, for the gloves will not be picked up by the government, but by the people of Spain, by the army, by the live forces of the country, by all who represent anything in the nation."

"That," says Correo, "is our opinion too."

The Liberal calls attention to the alleged fact that very nearly the whole European press has taken the side of Spain "in the disputes pending between it and the United States. The

CONSUL GENERAL FITZHUGH LEE.

Fitz-Hugh Lee, the able consul general of the United States at Havana, is a grandson of "Light Horse Harry" Lee and a nephew of General Robert E. Lee. He is 63 years old and was a gallant soldier on the Confederate side during the war. In 1885 he was governor of Virginia. His course at Havana has been pleasing to men of all political parties.

support thus given to Spain will, I think, have its effect on Washington.

VERY PLAIN TRUTHS.

The $1,500 Per Acre Expose Killed the Tricksters.

Here is good reading, backed by affidavits of Mr. P. Morley and Mr. J. W. Gipner, in case of necessity:

"Mr. James C. Deidrick, representing the Pleasant Heights Land company, visited the heights with us and pointed out to us the spot upon which the land company desired to have the reservoir located, earnestly entreating us to advocate the measure, stating that the price would be at the valuation of lots in that immediate section, or about $1,500.00 per acre. Mr. Morley replied that the whole scheme was impracticable, that the entire water works system would require remodeling in case the ground was secured as a general distributing reservoir, and that if the land was made a present to the city, with an additional inducement in the way of $20,000 cash, it would not pay the city to take it into consideration."

Investigation develops the fact that the mere piping of water to the Pleasant Heights plat would cost the city the sum of $12,000.00. Further than this, the statement made in the lower region sheet of last night that their statement had been withdrawn last month is a plain, unvarnished lie. The proposition was not withdrawn until March 2, after the meeting of council, when all hope of a deal favorable to the plotters was dead and buried. Turn on the water.

AN ANNEXATION BILL.

One Reported In the Senate by Foreign Relations Committee.

WASHINGTON, March 17.—The senate committee on foreign relations has recommended to the senate that the Hawaiian Islands be annexed by legislation in open session and reported a joint resolution accomplishing this purpose.

The joint resolution went to the calendar, Senator Davis did not give any notice of calling it up.

Westinghouse Man Here.

J. W. Longmore, purchasing agent of the Westinghouse Electric company of Pittsburgh, was in the city this morning and left a large order with R. Thomas & Son. He is a resident of Bellvue, and while here was the guest of Reverend Swift.

Special Meetings.

Special meetings began at the First Presbyterian church last evening, the attendance being large. The meetings will continue through this week and next.

In the year 1700 there was only one newspaper in the United States. Now there are more than in England, France and Germany put together.

Property is said to be so safe in Finland that packages left unguarded any where have never been touched.

FIVE YEARS OLD.

The Elks Observed Their Anniversary Last Night.

The Elks last evening celebrated their fifth anniversary at their rooms in the Knowles block.

Guests to the number of 125 were present, including visiting Elks from Allegheny, Rochester, Lisbon, Bellaire and Steubenville. George Brock acted as toastmaster, and Grand Exalted Ruler Detwiler, of Harrisburg, made a very interesting address upon the general lodge work and the benefits to be derived from the order. George Buxton told of his experience as district deputy for the northern district of Ohio, and Henry Joseph gave a brief history of the progress of the lodge during the past year under his reign as exalted ruler. Addresses were also made by T. H. Jayens, of Rochester; George Boch, of Allegheny, and Attorneys Grosshans, Clark, McGarry and Hill. A fine musical program was rendered, and the banquet was one of the most elaborate ever served in the city.

TWO CASES

Made Up the Police Business of the City Last Night.

Two arrests were made last night, and the offenders paid $6.60 each this morning.

A young man, who gave the name of William Cole, was taken by Officer Jennings for being disorderly while Fred Sikes was charged by Officer Jennings with a like offense. Both names are assumed, the parties being well known young men. They were arrested at 8 o'clock this morning.

William Bradley, who was arraigned yesterday evening, pleaded not guilty to the charge of embezzlement. He was placed on trial at 4 o'clock this afternoon. Seven witnesses will be examined.

No calls were sent to the fire station during the night.

TO THE PENITENTIARY

Will Go the Next Person Convicted of Destroying Flint.

COLUMBUS, March 17.—[Special]—Senator Blake has introduced a bill that whoever puts or causes to be put into or upon any flint, spar, clay, glaze or other ingredients used in the manufacture of earthenware any cobalt, soap, salt, sand, earth or material which will tend to adulterate any flint, spar, etc., shall be imprisoned in the penitentiary not more than seven years and not less than one

PLENTY OF CANDIDATES.

A Number of Names Will Be Presented to the Committee.

A number of names will be presented to the Republican committee for places on the board of education at the meeting in city hall to be held tonight. Almost if not all of the present board will be candidates.

An effort was made to have J. M. Kelly consent to become a candidate, but the gentleman refused.

—George Bramer, of Washington street, spent the day in Pittsburg.

NICE LITTLE QUESTION

Is Involved In the Wellsville Damage Action.

JOSEPH DEACON PAID HIS FINE

The Check Was Sent to Lisbon This Morning and More Money Was Forwarded This Afternoon In Order That the Man Might Be Released.

LISBON, March 17.—[Special]—The damage suit of Harry Allman against Wellsville occupied a large part of yesterday and today.

Allman, who is but 12 years old, showed that in Fourteenth street a wire had been stretched on the top of stakes eight inches high and extended around a grass plot between the curb and the paved portion of the sidewalk. Allman and two companions were walking along the street arm in arm when he playfully struck one of them, and ran toward the roadway. He tripped on the wire, and in falling permanently injured his right arm. The suit asks $5,000 damages.

The city claims that sidewalks are for travel and not for play, and that Allman was using this particular one as a play ground when the accident happened, and Wellsville is therefore not responsible.

In charging the jury Judge Smith said: "If this boy was actually traveling along the sidewalk at the time he received the injury he would not, as a matter of law, be deprived of a remedy against the town simply because he was engaged in childish sport or amusement, unless you find that he was negligent or that by the exercise of ordinary care had been able to see and avoid the obstruction."

DEACON'S CHECK

Was Sent to Lisbon In Settlement of His Account.

LISBON, March 17.—[Special]—On the 10 o'clock mail this morning came a $500 check to Joseph Deacon, which he at once assigned to Clerk McNutt as payment of the fine imposed yesterday. This fine is not the extreme penalty of the law, as the sentence could have been $500 fine or 30 days' imprisonment, or both. Word has just been received that a check for the costs, amounting to $195.02, has been mailed by Deacon's attorney in East Liverpool. Deacon has been released from custody, and will return home this evening.

Allen Verrin has sold to Charles B. Ogden a part of lot 380 in East Liverpool for $1,650, and Holland Manley has transferred to Bridget King, et al., lot 990 in Manley and Cartwright's addition to East Liverpool, for $400.

The cases of A. C. Johnsen against the People's Oil company, and Morrison McLean against the county commissioners, have been continued on account of the illness of Attorney A. G. Smith.

The case of James Nelson against the city of East Liverpool has been continued until next Monday, and the case of the East Liverpool Ice company against Ben R. Little has been continued on account of the illness of the defendant.

The cases of C. A. Jones versus H. Lyons and R. G. Boyd against Thompson J. Andrews have also been continued.

The case of Isabella McCloskey against Joseph B. Hay and others, will be heard to the court tomorrow in Wellsville by consent of the attorneys.

Two Died From Typhoid Fever. The 18-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Duke died last night at their home in Lisbon street from typhoid fever. The funeral will take place tomorrow afternoon at 2 o'clock. Interment at Spring Grove.

The 27-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Smith died last night at their home in May street from an attack of typhoid fever. The funeral will take place tomorrow afternoon at 2 o'clock. Interment at Riverview.

To Elect Officers.

The boss painters will hold a meeting this evening for the purpose of electing officers of the organization.

Returned to Duty.

Officer Jennings returned to his duty last night after being off several days on account of sickness.

W. S. Elmley, colored, jumped from the second floor; right leg broken.

Philip Farley, right leg broken in jumping from the second story window. Josie Baxa, right leg broken in jumping from the second story window.

David Schaefer, arm broken trying to catch A. E. McCullough, who jumped from the third floor.

Jacob Kerchin, lettercarrier, jumped from second story; back injured and ankle sprained.

John McDermott, jumped from second floor and dislocated his left shoulder.

The building was of what is known as mill construction, had two elevator shafts, one in front, one in the rear, and reaching from the third story to the roof was a light shaft, which gave the flames every chance and it was because of this shaft that the fire spread with such awful rapidity.

The building was occupied by a number of concerns, some of them employing large numbers of people. It is estimated that 400 persons were at work in the building when the fire was discovered.

The origin of the fire is in dispute. By some it is said to have been caused by an explosion of chemicals in several establishments, whose employees deny it.

The weight of evidence seems to be, however, that the explosion was in the lower part of the building, for the flames shot up the light shaft at once. There was no eating down.

The sound of the explosion threw the inmates of the building into a panic, and a wild stampede began for the stairways and elevators. The elevator men saved all they could, but were too slow to do much. A number of persons got down the fire escapes, others jumped and a number were bravely rescued by firemen and spectators.

A BIG TARIFF INCREASE.

Highest Receipts For One Day Since the Law Went Into Effect.

WASHINGTON, March 17.—The receipts from customs yesterday amounted to $1,819,737. This is the highest point by nearly $365,000 that the customs has reached since the new tariff act went into effect about eight months ago. For some time the receipts from customs have been increasing with regularity, but only lately has the increase become noticeable from day to day. It is believed that importation of sugar is beginning to contribute materially to the receipts.

AN ANTI-SCALPING BILL.

One Introduced In the Senate—Work of the Legislature.

COLUMBUS, March 17.—Senator Miller has introduced a joint resolution proposing an amendment to the constitution providing for the limitation of stockholder's liability.

Senator Williams introduced an anti-scalping bill.

Senator Pugh introduced a bill to require the state board of pharmacy to issue to any assistant pharmacist who shall have been continuously employed in such capacity for ten years and who has passed an examination and holds a certificate as assistant pharmacist a certificate as pharmacist upon paying the fee.

Senator Shaefer introduced a bill requiring school enumeration to be taken in May instead of July, so as not to interfere with the employment of the teachers.

Senator Sheppard introduced a bill authorizing township trustees to purchase all implements and machinery necessary in the improvement of public highways.

These bills were introduced in the house:

Mr. Cline, providing that a notary public be commissioned to serve in corporations situated in two or more counties.

Mr. Kempel, providing that only a majority vote instead of two-thirds is necessary to carry an issue for engine house bonds.

Mr. Bossard, regulating passenger rates on railroads, so that a person can purchase a ticket at 2 cents per mile by furnishing a photograph of himself for identification.

Mr. Ercount, providing that township trustees and county commissioners may be compelled to furnish free water troughs along highways.

Mr. Roberts, requiring contractors to give a bond to protect laborers and furnishers of material in case they sublet their contracts.

Mr. Allen, giving the lessor the right to terminate the lease if a lessee allows natural gas from a well producing over 10,000 cubic feet per day to escape for more than 60 days after the well is drilled.

Mr. Rutan, providing that county commissioners may order surveys made by other than the county surveyor, recorded if deemed expedient.

Mr. Bramley, providing that special police appointed as watchmen or under the employ of any incorporated company shall not wear uniforms or emblems the same as the regular police. A bond of $5,000 is required and any person thus appointed shall not have been dismissed from the fire or police force within one year, or if his commission is revoked, reappointed within 12 months.

Mr. Norris, providing a volunteer entitled to a soldier's bounty of $100 can testify as to where he was credited and requiring the payment of same.

Mr. Piper, giving the owner of a station or jack a hen of 12 months on its get.

Mr. Cox, providing that service as a volunteer soldier shall not annul life insurance policies.

Mr. Macbroom, giving probate courts additional jurisdiction in the settlement of estates.

Mr. Rothe, providing that public cinnies shall be furnished at cost to those operated upon.

Mr. Booth, re-enactment of section 4364 so that children may purchase tobacco and cigars.

Mr. Chapman, changing the time when lien for tax attaches from April to the first Monday in October.

Mr. Drost, giving courts power to allow extra compensation for expert appraisers; authorizing safe deposit and trust companies to invest in gas stock and other local securities.

Mr. Snider (Greene), amending section 3987 so that it is not compulsory to build fences around schoolhouses; extending the authority of county commissioners to compromise damage claims; providing that boards of education shall receive bids for school charts.

Mr. Niles, providing that streets can be improved by the municipality without contracting for the same, upon the vote of three-fourths of the council; providing that fowls kept for sale or shipment shall be watered and fed at least once daily.

Mr. Otis, prohibiting the insurance of a person under 15 years of age.

Bills passed in the house:

House bill by Mr. Atkins, prohibiting the dumping of garbage along public highways.

Senate bill by Mr. Decker, providing that the county surveyor shall have charge of all county ditches.

House bill by Mr. Howard, extending the time until 1900 when freight cars shall be equipped with airbrakes and automatic couplers.

House bill by Mr. McCormick, fixing the salvage for sawlogs in the Ohio river and its tributaries at 50 cents.

House bill by Mr. Hess, providing that in case of a disagreement as to the division of costs in joint county ditches the probate court may appoint viewers to do the same.

They Want to Scalp Spaniards.

Word came recently that several chiefs of the Apaches and Cheyennes, whose reservations are near Fort Reno, have offered their services to Major Woodson to go to Cuba with their warriors and scalp Spaniards. The major has the offer under advisement pending the investigation of the Maine disaster.

The Cherokees, so it is said, have offered to raise a regiment also, and there are those at Guthrie, O. T., who think the Indians of the United States could lick the Spaniards if given an opportunity.—Kansas City Times.

HIS TASK TOO HARD.

ROBERT J. BURDETTE'S PATHETIC PILGRIMAGE TO CHICAGO.

Came From Denver to Tell His Little Sister of Her Mother's Death—Touched by Pallid Cheeks, He Could Only Laugh and Joke With Her.

With a twitching at the corners of his mustache and a dewy brightness in his kindly eyes Robert J. Burdette recently came from the hospital ward in Chicago where his favorite niece, his "little sweetheart" Erma, a short time before had been lying almost at the point of death. He came out with tidings of sorrow told. He had meant to tell the sick girl that the mother she tenderly loved was dead, but his heart failed him when he saw the pallid face and wasted form on the little cot. Instead he laughed and joked until Erma forgot her pain and her weakness and laughed with him. She was wonderfully cheered up by the visit, the nurse said.

Erma, the 16-year-old daughter of J. W. Burdette, has been in a private ward of the Englewood Union hospital for the last six weeks, dangerously sick with typhoid fever. When she was taken from her home at 6521 Butler street her mother was sick too. The girl begged with tears not to be taken away. She feared, she said, that she might never see her mother again.

Her presentiment was sadly fulfilled.

Before three weeks passed Mrs. Burdette died, and her body was carried back to the old home at Burlington, Ia., to be laid to rest among her own people who had gone before. The daughter at this time was herself near to death, and it was impossible to acquaint her with her loss. Since that time no one has dared tell her, and she still believes her mother to be alive and waiting for her return.

There was one, they said, in the darkened home, who could tell Erma, and who could tell her as no one else could—Uncle Bob—but Uncle Bob was far away. He was lecturing to the western folk, and in Denver people at that time were laughing at his humor, applauding his wit and occasionally wondering at his cynicism as he talked to them from the platform. Some, knowing him well, knew, or thought they knew, that there were times when he ceased to see the smiling faces before him or hear the storms of applause, but was thinking of the little girl who had loved him from her babyhood and had made him her especial confidant in all her childish griefs and joys. Once he wrote to her in his whimsical way: "I wish, my dear little one, that my arms were 300 miles and 3 feet long. Three hundred miles would bring them to your bedside, and there would be three feet more to go round you while I told you something that you should know."

Then came the message that brought him a few days ago to Chicago. From the Northwestern station he drove directly to his brother's house, and from there, after a stay of less than half an hour, he went to the hospital, but, though it was easy to take the sufferer to his heart, it was another thing to tell her "what she should know."

"I could not do it," he said to his brother, as they stood on the platform before the outgoing Pennsylvania train.

"It was too hard."—Chicago Record.

FRIGHTENED BY A PARROT.

Polly's Voice Frightened a Burglar, Who Mistook It For a Man.

The residence of Mr. Harry B. Pyne in Louisville was entered the other afternoon by a peddler, who, finding Mrs. Pyne alone, attacked her and would probably have injured her seriously had he not mistaken the cries of a parrot in an adjoining room for those of a man coming to the rescue. He obtained only about $1.50 in money, although Mrs. Pyne's diamonds were almost in his grasp when he was frightened away.

At about 5 o'clock in the afternoon a peddler stopped in front of the house and walked in with his hands full of vegetables. As he entered Mrs. Pyne had just locked up a set of valuable diamonds worth about $800. The man saw the jewels disappear and, glancing around the house to see if any one was in sight, demanded the keys of her cabinet. On her refusal he advanced upon her, and she snatched up the poker and struck him over the head, momentarily staggering him. He dodged in under the poker and struck her squarely in the face with his fist, knocking her down. At this moment, when he was about to wrench the keys to the cabinet from her hand, the parrot in the next room began to call out, "I am coming!"

The burglar became panic stricken and ran from the house, evidently mistaking the parrot for a man. There was no one in the house at the time except Mrs. Pyne.—Louisville Evening Post.

SAVE THE BABY!

A mother will risk her own life many times over, to save her babe from the horrors of hydrophobia. There are grave perils from which a mother should protect her child. A mad dog is a rarity, but thousands of children die daily because of the seeds of disease implanted in their little bodies before birth.

A woman may insure the health of her babe if she sees to it that she is thoroughly healthy in a womanly way during the period of gestation. Dr.

Pierce's Favorite Prescription cures all weakness and disease of the delicate and maternity. It makes them strong, healthy, vigorous and elastic. It banishes squeamish spells of the expectant period and makes baby's introduction to the world easy and nearly painless. It insures maternity of peril. It insures the newcomer's health and an ample supply of nourishment. It transforms sickly, nervous, fretful, despondent, childless women into healthy, happy, helpful, amiable wives and mothers. Over 90,000 women have testified to the benefits derived from this marvelous medicine. It does away with the necessity for the embarrassing examinations and local treatment upon which most physicians insist. It substitutes certainty for the doubtful treatment of obscure physicians, who seldom correctly diagnose these troubles. All medicine dealers sell it, and Dr. Pierce will cheerfully give free advice to ailing women who write him.

Scores of women who have been permanently cured of obstinate and dangerous diseases by this great medicine, have permitted their names, addresses, experiences and photographs to be printed in Dr. Pierce's Common Sense Medical Adviser. This book is free and contains 1

In Announcing the Excuse For the Blake Bill.

THERE IS NO DEADLOCK HERE

As the Newspaper Correspondents Believed—Samples of the Statements Sent Out From the Capital In Commenting on East Liverpool Legislation.

The newspaper correspondents at Columbus have not been well informed as to the excuse for the introduction of the Blake bill.

The Cleveland Leader of yesterday said:

"The house, by its favorable vote, made into law Senator Blake's bill increasing the number of East Liverpool's board of education from six to seven. This board has been deadlocked for a year over the election of a superintendent."

The Columbus Journal saw it in this light:

"The house passed Senator Blake's bill providing that East Liverpool, Columbiana county, shall elect seven members-at-large of the board of education. The board was composed of six members and had a long deadlock over the election of a school superintendent."

As everyone who is acquainted with the affairs of East Liverpool well knows there is no excuse whatever for that statement. The board is not deadlocked, nor has it been. Superintendent Rayman was elected by a majority vote very soon after the first ballot was taken, and nothing was ever heard of it afterward. There might be a deadlock in some other town, but there is none here.

IF WELLSVILLE GETS A MILL

The Street Railway Will Certainly Be Extended.

Manager John B. Hoefgen of the street railway company, arrived in the city yesterday afternoon, after spending several days with his father in Indianapolis. When seen by a reporter in reference to the quarter-mile extension of the line at the Wellsville end, he said:

"The company will most certainly build the addition if the board of trade succeeds in landing the tin mill they are now after. That is the only thing that will cause the extension to be built."

Mr. Hoefgen spoke on the subject in a conservative manner, and emphasized the fact that the extension would not be built under any other circumstances.

THERE IS NO DEADLOCK HERE

as the Newspaper Correspondents Believed—Samples of the Statements Sent Out From the Capital In Commenting on East Liverpool Legislation.

The newspaper correspondents at Columbus have not been well informed as to the excuse for the introduction of the Blake bill.

The Cleveland Leader of yesterday said:

"The house, by its favorable vote, made into law Senator Blake's bill increasing the number of East Liverpool's board of education from six to seven. This board has been deadlocked for a year over the election of a superintendent."

The Columbus Journal saw it in this light:

"The house passed Senator Blake's bill providing that East Liverpool, Columbiana county, shall elect seven members-at-large of the board of education. The board was composed of six members and had a long deadlock over the election of a school superintendent."

As everyone who is acquainted with the affairs of East Liverpool well knows there is no excuse whatever for that statement. The board is not deadlocked, nor has it been. Superintendent Rayman was elected by a majority vote very soon after the first ballot was taken, and nothing was ever heard of it afterward. There might be a deadlock in some other town, but there is none here.

IF WELLSVILLE GETS A MILL

The Street Railway Will Certainly Be Extended.

Manager John B. Hoefgen of the street railway company, arrived in the city yesterday afternoon, after spending several days with his father in Indianapolis. When seen by a reporter in reference to the quarter-mile extension of the line at the Wellsville end, he said:

"The company will most certainly build the addition if the board of trade succeeds in landing the tin mill they are now after. That is the only thing that will cause the extension to be built."

Mr. Hoefgen spoke on the subject in a conservative manner, and emphasized the fact that the extension would not be built under any other circumstances.

EAST LIVERPOOL, O., THURSDAY, MARCH 17.

UNION PAPERS.

All Union papers of East Liverpool are known to the various craft and unions of the city by the printing of the above Union Label at the head of their columns.

DAY follows day and the activity of the government in preparing for war continues, while the statement that there will be no war is now coming from men who should know something about it. The people, however, will withhold a verdict until they are convinced that Spain has made ample reparation for the loss of the Maine.

THE record of the Dingley bill during the month of February was good. Unless conditions change materially the record for March will be better. Imports are coming at a rate well calculated to increase the receipts wonderfully, and all officials at Washington are delighted over the prospects. Yet there are opponents of the measure who can find no merit in it, and declare that protection is a delusion, but happily for them their number seems to be decreasing with every treasury statement.

A GOOD THING.

The legislative investigation has already shown the presence of corruption at the capitol, and if the probe should be sent a little deeper it is probable there will be some startling announcements in the near future. That is in line with the wish of the people. The word of irregularity has gone out, and Ohio wants to know whether there is truth in the story. It is in the power of the committee to acquit or convict, but whatever the verdict may be the people want to know all that can be known, in order that they may decide for themselves.

FOR GOOD GOVERNMENT.

The Republican party is everywhere recognized as the party of good government, and there can be advanced no argument why it should be an exception in East Liverpool, nor will it be if the good Republicans of the city, the men who believe in every principle of the party, will go to the polls next Saturday afternoon and do their duty. If they remain away and leave the important matter of selecting candidates to a few, one of two things will happen—either the next Republican administration will be a disgrace to the party, or there will be no Republican administration for a few years.

SPAIN'S GREATEST CRIME.

Spain has many crimes to its credit. Through the long centuries of its bloody existence it has robbed and murdered and tortured until its history is marred by some of the blackest crimes ever recorded by man, but it has seldom attempted and never so successfully carried out a scheme of destruction such as that with which it now curses the poor people of Cuba. It matters not how cheerfully the soldiers of Spain will lie concerning the situation, there is no longer any room to doubt that thousands of Cubans are slowly but surely starving to death. Torn from their homes and prohibited from earning a livelihood, they have been compelled to suffer and die as though they were of no value whatever. There are today vast numbers of these suffering outcasts patiently waiting for death, yet hoping that relief will come from that people who have ever been praised as the friends of the poor and distressed. Will they live long enough to see their hopes realized? Some of them may, but scores are giving up the struggle every day, and if this government does not act quickly there will soon be naught but little heaps of whitening bones to show how successful has been the great crime of the century.

Vote for Elmer A. Stevenson for mayor.

THE PEOPLE PROTEST

Against the Suspension of the Officers.

BIG BROTHERHOOD MEETING

Will Be Held at the First M. E. Church Next Sunday Afternoon—Committee Does Away With Contest—All the News of Wellsville.

The suspension of Officers Cohagen and Johnson by Mayor Stewart continues to be, in every sense of the expression, the talk of the town.

The officers have a great many friends, and even people who are not their personal friends express their indignation. It is generally understood that the officers had no intention of breaking the law and acted on legal advice. On the other hand it is freely stated that the officers are now out of position because they paid too much attention to law.

One of the strong forces aroused by Mayor Stewart's action is the Asbury Brotherhood, and at the meeting to be held Sunday afternoon the question for discussion will be: "Shall a man be disgraced for doing his duty?" All the men in town are invited, and it is expected the ministers of other churches will be present. There is no denying that Mayor Stewart has not enhanced his popularity by the suspension.

Will Be No Contest.

The Republican committee wound up its affairs last night, paying all bills and investigating the vote on water works trustee.

It developed that a Third ward ballot had been voted at the First ward polls, and was properly counted. In the Third a Fifth ward ticket was voted and thrown out. Mr. Windram claimed the First ward ticket was not counted. The committee decided after questioning the judges at the polls that there was no cause for contest.

Nationalists Name a Ticket.

In answer to the call of R. A. Stewart, secretary of the Nationalist party, a number of people assembled in the council chamber last evening.

J. R. Stokes called the meeting to order, and R. A. Stewart was chosen secretary. The chairman called upon Rev. C. W. Stephenson for prayer after which Mr. Stewart stated the object of the meeting was to put a straight party ticket in the field.

Rev. J. S. Reager made some very interesting remarks. He said in part, "I wear the yoke of no party, I am a free lance. I think the duty of the hour is to break the ring that now has its grip around our city hall. It is now too late for the temperance people to do aught else than to choose between the candidates already in the field, and give our support to the best man that we find on either ticket."

Addresses were also made by Reverend Stephenson and Gamertsfelder, but as there were present those who could not conscientiously vote either of the tickets in the field the following ticket was formed, vacancies being left wherever it was known that good men were already named upon either of the tickets:

Mayor, W. F. Blackburn. Councilmen—First ward, Clarence Arnold; Second ward, L. A. Crawford; Third ward, H. A. Fraser. Justice of the peace,

P. H. White. Assessors—First ward, H. J. C. Lewis; Third ward, John Pilmer; Fourth ward, M. E. Excell. School board, Dr. L. E. Duncan.

TRICKSTERS MUST BE BEATEN

J. H. Harris, Trusted, Tried and True. Defies Any and All Enemies—The Water Works Officials Will Not Recommend Robbery and Jobbery—Clean Municipal Government Must Control.

The NEWS REVIEW, in common with all honorable and fair-minded men, honors and esteems any man or body of men, in public or private business life, who dare to ring out a manly note of defiance to all enemies, high or low, conscious of having done nothing which deserves condemnation. And this is the reason the NEWS REVIEW advocates the cause of the water works trustees of the city of East Liverpool, and especially advocates the cause of J. H. Harris, an honorable and trustworthy official, assailed by men who are not his peers—a class of men who, to say the least, are PECULIAR in their actions and entertain PECULIAR ideas as to what constitutes right or wrong. We like the ring of the true metal shown in the gauntlet of defiance thrown down by the water works officials, when they dare and defy the PECULIAR class referred to, telling said class that the members thereof cannot put their hand upon any illegal or unjust action upon the part of the trustees. The man who has not transgressed the law has no fear of the officers of the law; on the contrary, he looks to the custodian of the peace as his protector and safeguard. The trustees have not violated or outraged, or ATTEMPTED to violate or outrage public confidence. Can the PECULIAR fellows referred to above truthfully say the same? When the trustees, in time past, advocated the securing of a desirable site for reservoir purposes, they advocated a site which they thought the very best, for the purpose, the city could secure, and endeavored to have it secured at the most reasonable prices quoted in the real estate market, and the trustees will make oath that they, the trustees, were working in the interest of East Liverpool, and would not receive a single penny, directly or indirectly, from the transaction.

The PECULIAR class cries "wolf, wolf, wolf," against the honest and honorable men above designated, and openly assert that the city of East Liverpool is being robbed, and then, to the utter amazement of all men of common sense and decency, all voters who have any idea of the eternal fitness of justice, deliberately try to unload upon this city property for which they paid $89 per acre, asking the city $1,500.00 per acre; five acres of land for which they paid $445.00, and for which they have the unblushing effrontery to ask $7,500.00. Of course these PECULIAR fellows had the right to ask a MILLION dollars if they so desired; but they developed unadulterated gall when they tried to have the water works trustees recommend the outrageous feature to council. And when one of the officials told the projector of the proposition that he "must be crazy, and that the city could not afford to accept the ground as a present, with a further present of $20,000 in cash back of it," the trickster, backed by his brother tricksters, resolved to place men in the water works who would be more complaisant and who could be prevailed upon to further any pet schemes which would be conducive of securing wealth for the plotters, at the expense of the taxpayers of East Liverpool.

And now we will develop a choice lot of trickery which certain would-be politicians have been attempting to work off upon the people at the coming Republican primaries.

A prominent and absolutely unscrupulous Republican politician of this city, a man who makes it his boast that he can elect or defeat any man he desires, has been intimately associated with the whisky ring of this city, and, in combination with said ring, had determined that the liquor men's candidate should be nominated at the coming Republican primaries, Saturday, March 19, believing that, on account of the strong Republican majority in this city, the said candidate could be elected, and the ring be permitted to work out their own sweet will for the next two years. But the astute wire-worker made the discovery that the goods might not be delivered safely, as the people were becoming aroused and had resolved to turn the said candidate down into the mire of defeat; so he projected a new measure, asking the Republican members of the liquor gang to aid in nominating a man who could be defeated by a Democrat, and the Democrat was to be pledged to now a word to the voters of East Liverpool, workingmen, mechanics, business and professionals, voters who possess true manhood and who use the right of suffrage as a sacred trust committed to their care; voters who will not wear the colors of any clique of unprincipled men and who will not be dictated to under any circumstances. See to it that tried and trusted men are held in position in East Liverpool; see to it that men who have tried to rob the city treasury are defeated, despite all their boasted cunning; see to it that men who would unload upon the city, at the figure of $1,500.00 per acre, land which cost them $89 per acre, receive fierce and hot rebuke; see to it that they cannot use you as tools to wreak vengeance upon your honored townsmen, J. H. Harris, simply because he stood between them and the city treasury, ordering them to keep hands off. Men of the First ward, show by your ballots that you appreciate the efforts for clean government made by Councilman Marshall.

The NEWS REVIEW is staunchly Republican, builded on the bed rock of true Republicanism, and this is the reason that it demands that good and true and trusted citizens shall be placed in nomination at the coming primaries, as the placing of tools and tricksters on the ticket will, just as sure as fate, result in discomfiture and defeat to the party we love so well. Men who have been tried and found utterly wanting in all those characteristics which constitute a true, law-abiding and law-preserving official, have no right on the ticket of the Republican party, and they must not be placed there. We dare to give these words of warning for the reason that they are undeniable truths, and because they are backed by a great mass of honored Republicans, who have sworn that they will not be trifled with or used as the tools of any political tricksters.

CLOSED ALL THE DOORS

Democrats Carefully Guarded Their Meeting.

WARD OFFICERS WERE CHOSEN

Not a Place Was Left Vacant, and They Are in Part Prepared For the April Election—The Convention Will Be Held Next Saturday Evening.

The Democrats last evening held their ward caucuses behind closed doors at city hall.

John W. Hall was elected chairman of the meeting. It was decided to permit each ward to name its own candidates. They accordingly went into caucus and reported back to the convention the following ticket:

First ward—Council, George O. Snowden; assessor, M. W. Elliott; delegates to city convention, J. J. Weisend, John Grant, Lawrence Allison.

Second ward—Council, Bent McKinnon; assessor, Harvey Plankinton; delegates, W. S. Cook, Dal Anderson, J. H. Litmer.

Third ward—Council, F. P. Williams; assessor, Clark Moore; delegates, J. W. Moore, Jr., J. E. Green, P. Fennel.

Fourth ward—Council, Samuel Douglass; assessor, J. N. Baxter; delegates, Joseph Riley, J. H. Tracey, J. W. Hall.

Township assessor, R. J. Meakin; delegates, R. J. Meakin, Thomas O'Brien, Joseph Walters.

The reports were unanimously accepted, and after a short informal discussion in regard to the convention to be held Saturday evening the meeting adjourned.

TWO GOOD PIECES

Will Wind Up the Week at the Grand Opera House.

Miss Belle Archer who assumes the character of "A Contented Woman" is ably assisted by such well-known players as Mr. Mat Snyder, Barry Maxwell, Dustin Furniss, Chas. P. Morrison, Edward Craven, M. W. Scanlon, Frank Baldwin, W. J. Panthrun, Harry Beyers and Miss Rose Snyder, Henrietta Lee, Bonnie Lottie, Belle Chipperdale, Alfa Perry, Jessica Duncan, May Biffin and Leonie Dueth. At the Grand tomorrow night.

One of the most sparkling and refreshing entertainments in the farce comedy line is "McFadden's Row of Flats." It is just the kind of amusement that amuses and pleases the best classes of theatergoers, those who can enjoy a good long laugh. The engagement of this company of clever people should test the capacity of our theater and will undoubtedly do so Saturday night.

TOADIX STILL HERE.

He Did Not Start For Louisville Last Night.

George Carey failed to leave last evening for Louisville, but expects to get away tonight. He has not been ordered to report until Saturday, and may not leave until tomorrow evening, as he is like a great many other ball players, and considers Friday an unlucky day to appear for duty.

The Burford pottery ball team desire to meet any pottery team in this city, the Sebring team preferred. George Kennedy is their manager, and they expect to win the championship.

There is some talk of again making an effort to organize a pottery league. It is thought the league can be made a success.

Alf Shaw yesterday played first base for the Pittsburgh team in a practice game, and had three hits and 11 putouts to his credit while Padden had three hits and seven putouts.

Cleaning Second Street.

The street commissioner and his men this morning began the work of cleaning Second street. The scraper was first used and then the city wagon went over the route. The improvement was very noticeable and was much needed. Between Market and Washington streets mud and dirt to the depth of three inches was seen.

Recovering Rapidly.

HOW A MAN MADE $7,000.

Because the Chap Who Lost It Told His Business in a Cafe.

"Don't discuss your private business affairs in a public place," said an old Brooklynite to the New Yorker who approached him in a cafe near the city hall. Then the Brooklyn man, pointing out a real estate dealer, said:

"Talking about a business deal in this very cafe cost that man $7,000, and the money went into my pocket too. You see, he represented a syndicate that wanted to build on some property in which I was interested as the owner of one house and city lot. The agent did not know me from a Canarsie clammer. Well, he came in here with a friend—one of the syndicate—for luncheon on an afternoon in last July. They took seats at this table. I sat at the next one.

"I began to 'take notice,' as grandmas say, when I heard the strangers at the next table discuss quite loudly a deal in relation to the property adjoining mine. The agent had ordered a fine layout for luncheon and was evidently well pleased with his deal. He said to his friend:

"Well, I pulled off the trick for that property at 219 Cheap street today. The owner thought I was doing him a favor. I started in at $15,000 and finally closed with him for $18,000. He bit in a hurry. Why, the property is worth $25,000 if it's worth a dollar to us. Now I must look for the chap that owns 221. He'll be glad to get $18,000 for his house. It's lucky for us they're not on to the fact that we want to buy that entire block."

"I didn't need to do any eavesdropping, you see. That little speech of the agent cost him exactly $7,000. You can readily guess that I, as the owner of 221 Cheap street, was not especially anxious to sell after that. I kept Mr. Real Estate Man on the jump for nearly five months, and when I let up on him I got my price, exactly $25,000—a neat little profit of $7,000 above what I would have gladly accepted. So you see the point of my remark to you, 'Don't discuss private business affairs in a public place.' Now we'll go to my office, and I'll listen to your proposition."

—New York Sun.

HIDDEN GOLD IN PARIS.

Many Fanatics Spend Their Lives Hunting For Buried Treasure.

Some Parisians are actually kept from wandering by conviction that there is hidden treasure behind the walls or beneath the flooring or in the chimney nook or under the roof, says Chambers' Journal.

You are told that during the numberless sieges to which Paris has been subjected and the internal revolutions it has undergone there exists not a cellar or a garret but has become the receptacle of some part of the immense riches accumulated in religious houses and old families. There is, perhaps, nothing irrational in the supposition that in the good old times when convents were made the depositories not only of the secrets of the aristocracy, but of the family jewels likewise, instances must have occurred wherein these deposits were buried and remain undiscovered, together with the treasures of the confraternity. But human folly has of late years exalted this rational possibility into dazzling certainty. Every means is now resorted to and more gold and precious time expended than the most valuable treasure could repay in order to seize the secret which still resists discovery.

"While you of the matter of fact, plodding Anglo-Saxon race are toiling and broiling in Australia and California, searching for gold, we gold seekers of Paris find it here beneath our feet in the old quarters of the city round Notre Dame and the Hotel de Ville, where gold is teeming in greater plenty than amid the rock bowlders of California or beneath the soil of Ballarat," said Ducasse, the great treasure seeker.

The Art of Lighting a Pipe.

Now, comrades, not to waste time talking of style of pipe or brands of tobacco—tastes differ in those things—try this: Keep pipe and stem as clean as possible, and the time to clean them is immediately after a smoke. Fill the bowl with your favorite brand and press down firmly, but don't strive to see how solid you can pack it. If you make it as solid as wood, it will burn like wood and make a coal fire about as hot and ungrateful. Don't light the entire surface. Don't "pull" as though you had no more matches and feared it would "go out."

Light a small spot directly in the center. Smoke slowly until it works its way gradually downward. If it undertakes to spread, press it down again with thumb or finger. A half minute's care in starting is all that is required. Now smoke slowly. The little fire continues downward, delicately roasting the tobacco on the sides, and presently, when you cave this off, there will come a revelation in soft, mellow smoke, so cool, so delicious, so soothing, that you will never regret having read this.—Sports Afield.

Von.

In Germany "von" implies nobility, and all persons who belong to the nobility prefix "von" to their names without any exception. Persons who do not belong to the nobility cannot have the right to put "von" before their names. A man who is knighted for some reason, however, has the same right to put "von" before his family name as a person of ancient nobility. For instance, when Alexander Humboldt was knighted he became Alexander von Humboldt. All his descendants, male and female, take the prefix.—Philadelphia Press.

Revives Abandoned Gas Wells.

Superintendent Coyle of the Indiana Natural Gas and Oil company (the Chicago Pipe line) has made a discovery that is worth many millions of dollars to the Indiana gas belt, particularly to the manufacturers, who have $50,000,000 invested in factories there.

Mr. Coyle has discovered a process of obtaining gas from wells that have been drowned out by water. As water is the only agency that will destroy gas wells the value of the discovery will be at once understood. Mr. Coyle is taking abandoned wells and drawing the gas from them just as before their collapse.

CLOSED ALL THE DOORS

Democrats Carefully Guarded Their Meeting.

WARD OFFICERS WERE CHOSEN

Not a Place Was Left Vacant, and They Are in Part Prepared for the April Election—The Convention Will Be Held Next Saturday Evening.

The Democrats last evening held their ward caucuses behind closed doors at city hall.

John W. Hall was elected chairman of the meeting. It was decided to permit each ward to name its own candidates. They accordingly went into caucus and reported back to the convention the following ticket:

First ward—Council, George O. Snowden; assessor, M. W. Elliott; delegates to city convention, J. J. Weisend, John Grant, Lawrence Allison.

Second ward—Council, Bent McKinnon; assessor, Harvey Plankinton; delegates, W. S. Cook, Dal Anderson, J. H. Litmer.

Third ward—Council, F. P. Williams; assessor, Clark Moore; delegates, J. W. Moore, Jr., J. E. Green, P. Fennel.

Fourth ward—Council, Samuel Douglass; assessor, J. N. Baxter; delegates, Joseph Riley, J. H. Tracey, J. W. Hall.

Township assessor, R. J. Meakin; delegates, R. J. Meakin, Thomas O'Brien, Joseph Walters.

The reports were unanimously accepted, and after a short informal discussion in regard to the convention to be held Saturday evening the meeting adjourned.

Vote for Elmer A. Stevenson for mayor.

TWO GOOD PIECES

Will Wind Up the Week at the Grand Opera House.

Miss Belle Archer who assumes the character of "A Contented Woman" is ably assisted by such well-known players as Mr. Mat Snyder, Barry Maxwell, Dustin Furniss, Chas. P. Morrison, Edward Craven, M. W. Scanlon, Frank Baldwin, W. J. Panthrun, Harry Beyers and Miss Rose Snyder, Henrietta Lee, Bonnie Lottie, Belle Chipperdale, Alfa Perry, Jessica Duncan, May Biffin and Leoni Dueth. At the Grand tomorrow night.

One of the most sparkling and refreshing entertainments in the farce comedy line is "McFadden's Row of Flats." It is just the kind of amusement that amuses and pleases the best classes of theatergoers, those who can enjoy a good long laugh. The engagement of this company of clever people should test the capacity of our theater and will undoubtedly do so Saturday night.

George Carey failed to leave last evening for Louisville, but expects to get away tonight. He has not been ordered to report until Saturday, and may not leave until tomorrow evening, as he is like a great many other ball players, and considers Friday an unlucky day to appear for duty.

The Burford pottery ball team desire to meet any pottery team in this city, the Sebring team preferred. George Kennedy is their manager, and they expect to win the championship.

There is some talk of again making an effort to organize a pottery league. It is thought the league can be made a success.

Alf Shaw yesterday played first base for the Pittsburgh team in a practice game, and had three hits and 11 putouts to his credit while Padden had three hits and seven putouts.

HOW A MAN MADE $7,000.

Because the Chap Who Lost It Told His Business In a Cafe.

"Don't discuss your private business affairs in a public place," said an old Brooklynite to the New Yorker who approached him in a cafe near the city hall. Then the Brooklyn man, pointing out a real estate dealer, said:

"Talking about a business deal in this very cafe cost that man $7,000, and the money went into my pocket too. You see, he represented a syndicate that wanted to build on some property in which I was interested as the owner of one house and city lot. The agent did not know me from a Canarsie clammer. Well, he came in here with a friend—one of the syndicate—for luncheon on an afternoon in last July. They took seats at this table. I sat at the next one.

"I began to 'take notice,' as grandmas say, when I heard the strangers at the next table discuss quite loudly a deal in relation to the property adjoining mine. The agent had ordered a fine layout for luncheon and was evidently well pleased with his deal. He said to his friend:

"Well, I pulled off the trick for that property at 219 Cheap street today. The owner thought I was doing him a favor. I started in at $15,000 and finally closed with him for $18,000. He bit in a hurry. Why, the property is worth $25,000 if it's worth a dollar to us. Now I must look for the chap that owns 221. He'll be glad to get $18,000 for his house. It's lucky for us they're not on to the fact that we want to buy that entire block."

"I didn't need to do any eavesdropping, you see. That little speech of the agent cost him exactly $7,000. You can readily guess that I, as the owner of 221 Cheap street, was not especially anxious to sell after that. I kept Mr. Real Estate Man on the jump for nearly five months, and when I let up on him I got my price, exactly $25,000—a neat little profit of $7,000 above what I would have gladly accepted. So you see the point of my remark to you, 'Don't discuss private business affairs in a public place.' Now we'll go to my office, and I'll listen to your proposition."—New York Sun.

HIDDEN GOLD IN PARIS.

Many Fanatics Spend Their Lives Hunting For Buried Treasure.

Some Parisians are actually kept from wandering by conviction that there is hidden treasure behind the walls or beneath the flooring or in the chimney nook or under the roof, says Chambers' Journal.

You are told that during the numberless sieges to which Paris has been subjected and the internal revolutions it has undergone there exists not a cellar or a garret but has become the receptacle of some part of the immense riches accumulated in religious houses and old families. There is, perhaps, nothing irrational in the supposition that in the good old times when convents were made the depositories not only of the secrets of the aristocracy, but of the family jewels likewise, instances must have occurred wherein these deposits were buried and remain undiscovered, together with the treasures of the confraternity. But human folly has of late years exalted this rational possibility into dazzling certainty. Every means is now resorted to and more gold and precious time expended than the most valuable treasure could repay in order to seize the secret which still resists discovery. "While you of the matter of fact, plodding Anglo-Saxon race are toiling and broiling in Australia and California, searching for gold, we gold seekers of Paris find it here beneath our feet in the old quarters of the city round Notre Dame and the Hotel de Ville, where gold is teeming in greater plenty than amid the rock boulders of California or beneath the soil of Ballarat," said Ducasse, the great treasure seeker.

The Art of Lighting a Pipe.

Now, comrades, not to waste time talking of style of pipe or brands of tobacco—tastes differ in those things—try this: Keep pipe and stem as clean as possible, and the time to clean them is immediately after a smoke. Fill the bowl with your favorite brand and press down firmly, but don't strive to see how solid you can pack it. If you make it as solid as wood, it will burn like wood and make a coal fire about as hot and ungrateful. Don't light the entire surface. Don't "pull" as though you had no more matches and feared it would "go out." Light a small spot directly in the center. Smoke slowly until it works its way gradually downward. If it undertakes to spread, press it down again with thumb or finger. A half minute's care in starting is all that is required. Now smoke slowly. The little fire continues downward, delicately roasting the tobacco on the sides, and presently, when you cave this off, there will come a revelation in soft, mellow smoke, so cool, so delicious, so soothing, that you will never regret having read this.—Sports Afield.

Von.

In Germany "von" implies nobility, and all persons who belong to the nobility prefix "von" to their names without any exception. Persons who do not belong to the nobility cannot have the right to put "von" before their names. A man who is knighted for some reason, however, has the same right to put "von" before his family name as a person of ancient nobility. For instance, when Alexander Humboldt was knighted he became Alexander von Humboldt. All his descendants, male and female, take the prefix.—Philadelphia Press.

Revives Abandoned Gas Wells.

Superintendent Coyle of the Indiana Natural Gas and Oil company (the Chicago Pipe line) has made a discovery that is worth many millions of dollars to the Indiana gas belt, particularly to the manufacturers, who have $50,000 invested in factories there.

Mr. Coyle has discovered a process of obtaining gas from wells that have been drowned out by water. As water is the only agency that will destroy gas wells the value of the discovery will be at once understood. Mr. Coyle is taking abandoned wells and drawing the gas from them just as before their collapse.

REPORTED TO TRADES COUNCIL

But the Clerks Think They Can Bring About a Settlement—Officials of National Organizations Send Letters of Thanks for Recent Action Regarding Union Labels.

The meeting of Trades council last night was one of the best in many months, the attendance being unusually large.

President Weisend was looking after some other matters, and Vice President Eardley presided.

Credentials from the union recently formed by the painters were received, the delegates being J. C. Ruddy, Harry Carey, S. Johnson and Joe Carey. They reported that the new organization was made up of 17 members, a seal had been adopted, and they had a strong organization.

Communications had been received from Secretary E. Lewis Evans of the United tobacco workers, St. Louis; Secretary Thomas White, garment workers, New York; Secretary John Phillips, hatters, Brooklyn; President Geo. W. Perkins, cigarmakers, Chicago; Secretary William E. Rausch, bicycle workers, Toledo; President John F. Tobin, boot and shoe makers, Boston. Each of these gentlemen in behalf of the national organizations they represent, thanked the council for the action it had taken relative to the union label and promised all the support that could be given.

Typographical union reported its success in bringing another office into the fold, stating that every office in the city now employed union printers.

A delegate reported that some grocery stores in the city were keeping open after hours, but at present the grocery clerks wanted no help from council. They believed they could handle the matter successfully. If this cannot be done, they will receive the aid of the grievance committee.

A vote of thanks was tendered Miss Minty McLain for her untiring efforts in making the library benefit a success.

Wheelmen Have a Position.

The wheelmen of the city are seriously considering the advisability of not supporting the road improvement unless council decides to macadamize with limestone. The sandstone that is found near the city would make the roads very poor for bicycle riding, and the wheelmen think the thoroughfares should be improved so they will derive some benefit from them.

HE IS THE PEARL KING

HOW SAMUEL HARRIS OF CALIFORNIA WON THIS TITLE.

He Now Controls the Pearl and Pearl Shell Market of America and Europe. An Interesting Trade With Natives of Pacific Islands.

It is not generally known that one single merchant, a young Californian, 32 years of age, controls the pearl and pearl shell market of America and Europe. This monarch of the pearl trade is Samuel Harris. He operates in the Pacific ocean, and he has built up an astounding commercial reputation in the course of eight years. There are plenty of cattle kings in the west and wheat kings in the east and money kings everywhere, but there is only one pearl king, and that is Harris. Thousands of rare, translucent gems are brought to this country and shipped to Europe by his agents. He deals in mother of pearl shells by the ton, and the magnitude of his transactions has made the private mark of Harris—namely, a diamond inclosing a large H—a seal of international importance and a guarantee of genuine kingship.

Harris gathers his gems exclusively in the Society islands. For eight years he has made these Pacific land spots the field of his interesting business. It was on the shores of Tahiti that first he earned his title of king. After repeated transactions with the natives whom he employed in pearl fishing he stimulated them from passivity to great activity, gaining their confidence and trust by honest and reliable barter. He never made promises to them that he did not keep. He paid them in full the price which they demanded. Himself a finished critic, a connoisseur, he never permitted them to overvalue a pile of shells, and they grew to admire him. He controlled the situation at Tahiti. He was easily king.

It is said that Harris has been a lover of these delicate gems since his boyhood. Pearls have always been to him the most mysterious, the most wonderful, the most beautiful handiwork of nature. To him, gifted with an artistic, idealistic temperament, they appealed in a romantic, poetic way. To him each translucent globe seemed like a tear from the weird eyes of an earth bewitched mermaid. They were silent to kens of the water maid's grief, she who perhaps pined for a terrestrial lover.

Finally young Harris took a pleasure voyage to the distant Society isles and saw what made his enthusiastic eyes bulge in their sockets. He saw native children playing along the sands with the richest pearls he had ever seen; he saw the native belles passing by with ropes of pearly gems about their throats, such treasures as would have made a society queen turn pale with envy. Then Harris made his first business trip to Tahiti, and he took with him $3,000 worth of merchandise. His burden consisted mainly of tobacco, knives, rope, fishhooks and articles of clothing. These were luxuries to the native Tahitian, and the pearl trader brought back that year in exchange for his merchandise fully $40,000 worth of pearls and pearl shells. He did not consider it a bad bargain, and he has been back every year since.

Formerly only the lowest grade pearls were brought to the American market. The finer ones were retained abroad and rarely ever found their way this side of the water. Harris has turned the tables and now brings to the San Francisco market the most perfect pearls found anywhere. The perfect stones are orient and of translucent whiteness or glimmering iridescence. They are finely symmetrical in form, and the best are generally pear shaped, like a falling star. The hunt for these beauties of the deep goes on incessantly. The same excitement and uncertainty attend the fishing as surround the tireless chase for gold or the determined digging in a diamond mine.

There is the same labor and the oft repeated disappointment. Now and then a great surprise is brought up by the fearless pearl diver. That compensates for all the rest. Lately it was an immense black pearl, the handsomest of its kind ever snatched from the fathomless ocean. Harris brought it on his last recent voyage to San Francisco. After careful examination it was found to be absolutely perfect, having a weight of six carats. It is valued in the London market at £150.

Since 1894 Harris has revolutionized the trade in pearl shells. Only one grade ever found its way to the manufacturers of pearl shell ornaments and gewgaws. It was generally shell that was thin, flaky and colorless and sold for $800 a ton. This energetic young pearl king now exports four different grades or varieties, ranging in value from $600 to $1,200 a ton.

All shells are purchased in bulk from the native fishers. They bring down their hauls of shell to the young king's schooner as it lies in port, fretting restlessly against the side of the rude piers. They bring down their find here for the king's inspection. He sits in state and passes judgment. Harris can tell at a glance what a pile of shells is worth. He is an expert at determining value, and he is a shrewd buyer as well and has never permitted the native experts to outdistance him in judgment. When a pile of shells is dropped before him, he picks up one or two and runs his arm carelessly through the heap and in a moment can determine the grade, for the natives are clever at assortment. No uncommon shells are ever found among the poor ones. They have not learned yet the trick of deception by mingling the good and the bad.—Chicago Times Herald.

Long Beards.

Perhaps the best known beard in the United States is that of ex-Senator Peffer of Kansas, which was said to measure three feet long, but there are many which exceed that in size. The museums frequently contain men 5 feet and over whose beards sweep the floor when they stand up, but perhaps the longest of all is that of Legrand Larow of Lamar, Mo., which is said to exceed any other in the world. It is seven feet in length and has measured 7½ feet. Mr. Larow was born in Tompkins county, New York, in 1852, and his relatives are noted for heavy beards, but not extraordinary length. He is 6 feet in height and weighs 175 pounds. When standing with his beard down, it extends two feet upon the floor. He has not shaved for over 20 years. In the year 1877 Mr. Larow went west and was a farmer and stock raiser for many years. He wears his beard braided and wound around his body or else wrapped and lodged inside his vest.—Boston Transcript.

An Odd Sign.

Nearly everybody has heard of the "catch sign" of the dyer, to the effect that he "dyes to live and lives to dye." There are probably half a dozen or more dyers in this city who have that sign conspicuously displayed at their establishments. There has been a sudden revival in the use of catchy signs, particularly rhymed ones, among bootblacks and small sidewalk merchants. These signs are now springing up everywhere, and a couple of young newsboys with some facility for making doggerel are picking up many a half dollar for work of this kind among their fellows. The fever has even reached Frankford, and an odd old character there has this placard outside his humble establishment:

Moses Jones,
Dealer in Bones;
Also in Bags
And All Kinds of Rags.
I Can Laugh at My Foes,
For I'm Still Old Moses.

—Philadelphia Record.

Woman's Voice.

In arguing the point, giving instructions to her better half, teaching the young idea how to shoot, asserting her rights, retailing gossip, saying goodbye and negotiating bargains it has been calculated that a woman's tongue travels 5,643,450 yards 18 inches in the course of an ordinary lifetime of three-score years and ten.

These figures are something appalling and will be apt to make the ordinary young man hesitate before entering the holy bonds of matrimony.

Yet how empty and silent the world would be without a woman's voice!—New York Journal.

See! See!! See!!! What?

SEE what Prof. A. A. Stanley, Prof. of Music in the University of Michigan, Ann Arbor, Mich., says of the CLIFFORD PIANO.

ANN ARBOR, MICH., Feb. 11, 1895.

My Dear Mr. Chickering:—I have examined the piano you referred to, and can truthfully say that I consider it a very fine instrument. The action is delicately adjusted, and is extremely responsive. The scale is even; the tone full and musical. In fact, all the requirements of artistic pianoforte construction have been so conscientiously kept in mind that the result is most satisfactory to the player.

I only hope that the industry, good judgment, inventive and constructive skill embodied in the Clifford Piano may be richly rewarded.

Very Sincerely Yours,

ALBERT A. STANLEY, A. M.

REPORTED TO TRADES COUNCIL

But the Clerks Think They Can Bring About a Settlement—Officials of National Organizations Send Letters of Thanks for Recent Action Regarding Union Labels.

The meeting of Trades council last night was one of the best in many months, the attendance being unusually large.

President Weisend was looking after some other matters, and Vice President Eardley presided.

Credentials from the union recently formed by the painters were received, the delegates being J. C. Ruddy, Harry Carey, S. Johnson and Joe Carey. They reported that the new organization was made up of 17 members, a scale had been adopted, and they had a strong organization.

Communications had been received from Secretary E. Lewis Evans of the United tobacco workers, St. Louis; Secretary Thomas White, garment workers, New York; Secretary John Phillips, hatters, Brooklyn; President Geo. W. Perkins, cigarmakers, Chicago; Secretary William E. Rausch, bicycle workers, Toledo; President John F. Tobin, boot and shoe makers, Boston. Each of these gentlemen in behalf of the national organizations they represent, thanked the council for the action it had taken relative to the union label and promised all the support that could be given.

Typographical union reported its success in bringing another office into the fold, stating that every office in the city now employed union printers.

A delegate reported that some grocery stores in the city were keeping open after hours, but at present the grocery clerks wanted no help from council. They believed they could handle the matter successfully. If this cannot be done, they will receive the aid of the grievance committee.

A vote of thanks was tendered Miss Minta McLain for her untiring efforts in making the library benefit a success.

Vote for Elmer A. Stevenson for mayor.

To the Public.

We, the undersigned, call on all wheelmen of this city to use their influence and vote for J. E. Bowers for city street commissioner, believing that if elected he will keep the streets in the best possible condition for the use of the bicycle.

Almost Ready to Start.

John S. Goodwin stated last evening that work on his plant in Wellsville would start within the next ten days. The contracts for the first work will be let before the week ends, and matters will then be pushed forward as rapidly as possible.

The plant may be in operation before the beginning of July.

The Straube Piano. Smith & Phillips.

To the Public.

Our spring stock of piece goods which was selected for the exclusive use for nobby dressers, and bears the stamp of tailors to trade is ready for your inspection. Try us for your tailor made suits. We guarantee satisfaction. Prices range from $12 to $25.

ERLANGER'S.

Vote for Elmer A. Stevenson for mayor.

Wheelmen Have a Position.

The wheelmen of the city are seriously considering the advisability of not supporting the road improvement unless council decides to macadamize with limestone. The sandstone that is found near the city would make the roads very poor for bicycle riding, and the wheelmen think the thoroughfares should be improved so they will derive some benefit from them.

The NEWS REVIEW for news.

HE IS THE PEARL KING

HOW SAMUEL HARRIS OF CALIFORNIA WON THIS TITLE.

He Now Controls the Pearl and Pearl Shell Market of America and Europe. An Interesting Trade With Natives of Pacific Islands.

It is not generally known that one single merchant, a young Californian, 32 years of age, controls the pearl and pearl shell market of America and Europe. This monarch of the pearl trade is Samuel Harris. He operates in the Pacific ocean, and he has built up an astounding commercial reputation in the course of eight years. There are plenty of cattle kings in the west and wheat kings in the east and money kings everywhere, but there is only one pearl king, and that is Harris. Thousands of rare, translucent gems are brought to this country and shipped to Europe by his agents. He deals in mother of pearl shells by the ton, and the magnitude of his transactions has made the private mark of Harris—namely, a diamond inclosing a large H—a seal of international importance and a guarantee of genuine kingship.

Harris gathers his gems exclusively in the Society islands. For eight years he has made these Pacific land spots the field of his interesting business. It was on the shores of Tahiti that first he earned his title of king. After repeated transactions with the natives whom he employed in pearl fishing he stimulated them from passivity to great activity, gaining their confidence and trust by honest and reliable barter. He never made promises to them that he did not keep. He paid them in full the price which they demanded. Himself a finished critic, a connoisseur, he never permitted them to overvalue a pile of shells, and they grew to admire him. He controlled the situation at Tahiti. He was easily king.

It is said that Harris has been a lover of these delicate gems since his boyhood. Pearls have always been to him the most mysterious, the most wonderful, the most beautiful handiwork of nature. To him, gifted with an artistic, idealistic temperament, they appealed in a romantic, poetic way. To him each translucent globe seemed like a tear from the weird eyes of an earth bewitched mermaid. They were silent to the kens of the water maid's grief, she who perhaps pined for a terrestrial lover.

Finally young Harris took a pleasure voyage to the distant Society isles and saw what made his enthusiastic eyes bulge in their sockets. He saw native children playing along the sands with the richest pearls he had ever seen; he saw the native belles passing by with ropes of pearly gems about their throats, such treasures as would have made a society queen turn pale with envy. Then Harris made his first business trip to Tahiti, and he took with him $3,000 worth of merchandise. His burden consisted mainly of tobacco, knives, rope, fishhooks and articles of clothing. These were luxuries to the native Tahitian, and the pearl trader brought back that year in exchange for his merchandise fully $40,000 worth of pearls and pearl shells. He did not consider it a bad bargain, and he has been back very year since.

Formerly only the lowest grade pearls were brought to the American market. The finer ones were retained abroad and rarely ever found their way this side of the water. Harris has turned the tables and now brings to the San Francisco market the most perfect pearls found anywhere. The perfect stones are orient and of translucent whiteness or glimmering iridescence. They are finely symmetrical in form, and the best are generally pear shaped, like a falling star. The hunt for these beauties of the deep goes on incessantly. The same excitement and uncertainty attend the fishing as surround the tireless chase for gold or the determined digging in a diamond mine.

There is the same labor and the oft repeated disappointment. Now and then a great surprise is brought up by the fearless pearl diver. That compensates for all the rest. Lately it was an immense black pearl, the handsomest of its kind ever snatched from the fathomless ocean. Harris brought it on his last recent voyage to San Francisco. After careful examination it was found to be absolutely perfect, having a weight of six carats. It is valued in the London market at £150.

Since 1894 Harris has revolutionized the trade in pearl shells. Only one grade ever found its way to the manufacturers of pearl shell ornaments and gewgaws. It was generally shell that was thin, flaky and colorless and sold for $800 a ton. This energetic young pearl king now exports four different pearl shells or varieties, ranging in value from $600 to $1,200 a ton.

All shells are purchased in bulk from the native fishers. They bring down their hauls of shell to the young king's schooner as it lies in port, fretting restlessly against the side of the rude piers. They bring down their find here for the king's inspection. He sits in state and passes judgment. Harris can tell at a glance what a pile of shells is worth. He is an expert at determining value, and he is a shrewd buyer as well and has never permitted the native experts to outdistance him in judgment. When a pile of shells is dropped before him, he picks up one or two and runs his arm carelessly through the heap and in a moment can determine the grade, for the natives are clever at assortment. No uncommon shells are ever found among the poor ones. They have not learned yet the trick of deception by mingling the good and the bad.—Chicago Times-Herald.

Long Beards.

Perhaps the best known beard in the United States is that of ex-Senator Peffer of Kansas, which was said to measure three feet long, but there are many which exceed that in size. The museums frequently contain men 5 feet and over whose beards sweep the floor when they stand up, but perhaps the longest of all is that of Legrand Larow of Lamar, Mo., which is said to exceed any other in the world. It is seven feet in length and has measured 7½ feet. Mr. Larow was born in Tompkins county, New York, in 1852, and his relatives are noted for heavy beards, but not extraordinary length. He is 6 feet in height and weighs 175 pounds. When standing with his beard down, it extends two feet upon the floor. He has not shaved for over 20 years. In the year 1877 Mr. Larow went west and was a farmer and stock raiser for many years. He wears his beard braided and wound around his body or else wrapped and lodged inside his vest.—Boston Transcript.

An Odd Sign.

Nearly everybody has heard of the "catch sign" of the dyer, to the effect that he "dyes to live and lives to dye." There are probably half a dozen or more dyers in this city who have that sign conspicuously displayed at their establishments. There has been a sudden revival in the use of catchy signs, particularly rhymed ones, among bootblacks and small sidewalk merchants. These signs are now springing up everywhere, and a couple of young newsboys with some facility for making doggerel are picking up many a half dollar for work of this kind among their fellows. The fever has even reached Frankford, and an odd old character there has this placard outside his humble establishment:

Moses Jones,
Dealer In Bones;
Also In Bags
And All Kinds of Rags.
I Can Laugh at My Foes,
For I'm Still Old Moses.

—Philadelphia Record.

Woman's Voice.

In arguing the point, giving instructions to her better half, teaching the young idea how to shoot, asserting her rights, retailing gossip, saying goodby and negotiating bargains it has been calculated that a woman's tongue travels 5,645,450 yards 18 inches in the course of an ordinary lifetime of three score years and ten.

These figures are something appalling and will be apt to make the ordinary young man hesitate before entering the holy bonds of matrimony.

Yet how empty and silent the world would be without a woman's voice!—New York Journal.

TO THE ADVERTISERS.

The Evening News Review has the largest bona fide PAID daily circulation of any paper published in East Liverpool, and the largest circulation in Wellsville of any daily paper published in East Liverpool. Keen witted and wide awake business men and advertisers will make note of these facts.

HARRY PALMER,
Owner and Manager.

TO BUSINESS MEN.

The combination prices of the NEWS REVIEW, advertisement in paper and bills from said advertisement, are cheaper than any other daily paper in the city, while the workmanship, material and inks made use of are incomparably superior to those of would-be competitors. Test the matter. We will prove the truth of our assertion.

LOCAL BREVIETIES.

Additional local on first page.

H. P. Guthrie will move April 1 to Wellsville.

J. W. Albright is in Irondale today on business.

The Dresden pottery yesterday loaded a car of ware for the west.

This is St. Patrick's Day, and many persons in the city are wearing the green.

W. H. Carey, of the telephone office, was in Salineville today making some repairs to the lines.

There is a little improvement in the condition of C. T. Hard, who was badly injured Tuesday night.

Business in the local justice courts is very slow, and it has been several days since a new suit was entered.

J. C. Shaffer, who was the guest of Professor Rayman yesterday left the city last night for Wheeling.

The little son of Mr. and Mrs. E. N. Croxall is ill at their home in West End with an attack of typhoid fever.

Colonel Watson, of the Knowles, Taylor & Knowles company, left this morning for an extended western trip.

This morning three baskets of ware were sent to Allegheny on the first train. It was the first shipment of the week.

J. F. Quick was able to walk yesterday for the first time since he was stricken with paralysis several weeks ago.

Claude Woods, of Bellaire, was in the city last night attending the social given by the Elks. He returned home this morning.

Plans are now being prepared for remodeling the residence of Monroe Patterson at the corner of College and Kosuth streets.

Shipments from the freight depot were very large, and during the day over 15 cars were sent out. Considerable ware is being sent to Nebraska.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Swaney returned to the city last evening after an extended trip through the east. They will reside in Fifth street.

John Shrader was in Pittsburgh on business today. He refused to talk of any new move he might have in view in the present trouble with Receiver Owen.

A truck for the Adams express office in Wellsville, and a wheelbarrow for the mail service in the same town, were sent from this place this morning.

Superintendent Rayman is anxious to have the people of the city visit the schools tomorrow, and hopes a great many parents will take the occasion to see how their children are getting along in school.

The plans and specifications of the new building to be erected by the Citizen's National bank were received by President Hall last night. Bids are now being received and the contract will be let tomorrow.

John Rinehart, of Second street, was in Beaver today, attending the Gower murder trial. He was summoned as a witness, and what he knows will be used against the testimony of a witness heard Tuesday.

The engineering corps of the Cleveland and Pittsburgh railroad yesterday laid out the new switch to be built to the gas plant of the Bridgewater gas company. It is expected work will be commenced on the switch at once.

The piano committee of the Endeavor society of the First Presbyterian church last evening held a joint session with the trustees. The trustees agreed to give $100 toward purchasing the instrument, and the committee expect to be able to secure the balance in a short time.

The work on the Ohio Valley Gas company's telephone line to the Darlington fields will be completed Saturday evening. The workmen have experienced some difficulty in digging holes for the poles owing to the extremely rocky ground, and in many places it was necessary to use dynamite.

FIRE! FIRE! FIRE!

Not a Fire Sale, But Better to You In Every Particular.

HERE are agents from the outside world canvassing the sale of Wall Paper. The residents of East Liverpool desire, all things being equal, to patronize home and home industries. Knowing this to be a fact, I have resolved to hold out unheard of advantages and will cut the price of Wall Paper squarely in two, and give my customers the commissions which go to agents, and a discount beside. Here are my prices, with wall and ceilings to match:

TO THE ADVERTISERS.

The Evening News Review has the largest bonafide PAID daily circulation of any paper published in East Liverpool, and the largest circulation in Wellsville of any daily paper published in East Liverpool. Keen witted and wide awake business men and advertisers will make note of these facts.

HARRY PALMER,
Owner and Manager.

TO BUSINESS MEN.

The combination prices of the NEWS REVIEW, advertisement in paper and bills from said advertisement, are cheaper than any other daily paper in the city, while the workmanship, material and inks made use of are incomparably superior to those of would-be competitors. Test the matter. We will prove the truth of our assertion.

LOCAL BREVIETIES.

Additional local on first page.

H. P. Guthrie will move April 1 to Wellsville.

J. W. Albright is in Irondale today on business.

The Dresden pottery yesterday loaded a car of ware for the west.

This is St. Patrick's Day, and many persons in the city are wearing the green.

W. H. Carey, of the telephone office, was in Salineville today making some repairs to the lines.

There is a little improvement in the condition of C. T. Hard, who was badly injured Tuesday night.

Business in the local justice courts is very slow, and it has been several days since a new suit was entered.

J. C. Shaffer, who was the guest of Professor Rayman yesterday left the city last night for Wheeling.

The little son of Mr. and Mrs. E. N. Croxall is ill at their home in West End with an attack of typhoid fever.

Colonel Watson, of the Knowles, Taylor & Knowles company, left this morning for an extended western trip.

Thus morning three baskets of ware were sent to Allegheny on the first train. It was the first shipment of the week.

J. F. Quick was able to walk yesterday for the first time since he was stricken with paralysis several weeks ago.

Claude Woods, of Bellaire, was in the city last night attending the social given by the Elks. He returned home this morning.

Plans are now being prepared for remodeling the residence of Monroe Patterson at the corner of College and Kosuth streets.

Shipments from the freight depot were very large, and during the day over 15 cars were sent out. Considerable ware is being sent to Nebraska.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Swaney returned to the city last evening after an extended trip through the east. They will reside in Fifth street.

John Shrader was in Pittsburgh on business today. He refused to talk of any new move he might have in view in the present trouble with Receiver Owen.

A truck for the Adams express office in Wellsville, and a wheelbarrow for the mail service in the same town, were sent from this place this morning.

Superintendent Rayman is anxious to have the people of the city visit the schools tomorrow, and hopes a great many parents will take the occasion to see how their children are getting along in school.

The plans and specifications of the new building to be erected by the Citizen's National bank were received by President Hall last night. Bids are now being received and the contract will be let tomorrow.

John Rinehart, of Second street, was in Beaver today, attending the Gower murder trial. He was summoned as a witness, and what he knows will be used against the testimony of a witness heard Tuesday.

The engineering corps of the Cleveland and Pittsburgh railroad yesterday laid out the new switch to be built to the gas plant of the Bridgewater gas company. It is expected work will be commenced on the switch at once.

The piano committee of the Endeavor society of the First Presbyterian church last evening held a joint session with the trustees. The trustees agreed to give $100 toward purchasing the instrument, and the committee expect to be able to secure the balance in a short time.

The work on the Ohio Valley Gas company's telephone line to the Darlington fields will be completed Saturday evening. The workmen have experienced some difficulty in digging holes for the poles owing to the extremely rocky ground, and in many places it was necessary to use dynamite.

An Uncertain Car.

Liverpool patrons of the street railway complain because the last car does not leave Wellsville on schedule time, causing some people to walk or remain in Wellsville during the remainder of the night.

The car is due at the square at 12:06, but at times it leaves a few minutes before, and it has been known to be 20 minutes late. The inclination of the motorman in charge seems to govern the matter.

Settles Nervous Bankruptcy

Investigation shows that men who succeed are men of brains--strong nerves--great will power. Ordinary food cannot supply the vital forces which people with active brains and body require. Bicola Pills feed the nerves--make the mind bright, muscles strong--make flesh and blood and give perfect health to Men and Women. THE TURNERS OF PHILADELPHIA make Bicola Pills.

J. E. Buckley, Chief Clerk, National Hotel, Washington, D. C., testifies that he was a run down--was a shadow of his former self. Bicola Pills gave him wonderful relief--he gained over twenty pounds after using them. East Liverpool Agents, W. O. Hamilton, A. H. Bulger and John I. Hodson.

TURNERS' Little Liver Turners--A very small pill. Turns your liver. Cure sick headache, biliousness, indigestion.
